

Presents: Guest Speaker Mitch Nelles

Regional Meeting

Sunday, January 18, 2015 @ 9 am

Beth Israel Ner Tamid • Glendale, WI

About Mitch Nelles:

Mitch Nelles, aka Thunder, gained Wisconsin fame as a co-host of the ESPN sports radio show, "Homer & Thunder" for the past eight years.

At the January 2015 FJMC Midwest Region meeting, Mitch may stir things up when he covers topics such as sports rivalries between fans in Illinois and Wisconsin. And, he will stir up pride when he talks about Jewish athletes.

Before his work on 540 ESPN in Milwaukee/100.5 ESPN in Madison, Mitch covered sports for the Wisconsin State Journal and was a member of the interactive entertainment team (aka the guys who shoot the t-shirts into the crowd) for the Milwaukee Bucks.

No stranger to the microphone, Mitch maintains a high profile in the Greater Milwaukee community, having emceed and auctioneered events for Make-A-Wish, Variety of Wisconsin, Russell Wilson's personal foundation and The Guest House.

Mitch was in the house when the Boston Red Sox won the 2004 World Series; when the University of Wisconsin played in the NCAA Final Four last April and when Brewers manager Ron Roenicke pitched Shaun Marcum in Game 6 of baseball's NLCS in 2011.

He currently hosts a sports blog at onmilwaukee.com called "Thunderstruck."
